

Join us aboard The Schooner Ladona

3 nights (Fri–Mon)
Oct. 12 – 15, 2020 or Oct 16–19, 2020
Fall Colors Cruise

Celebrate the end of summer with fantastic sailing season and the fiery landscape of Maine. The hillsides are crimson, yellow, and orange and the weather is crisp. The breezes are strong, and we have the entire bay to ourselves. With a capacity for just 17 guests, The Ladona provides an all-inclusive, intimate, and personally curated vacation featuring comfort at sea, diverting activities aboard and ashore, and thoughtfully prepared dining experiences.

Life Aboard the Ladona

Life aboard the Ladona begins with a gourmet, made to order breakfast. The remaining daylight hours are spent sailing among untouched islands and exploring ashore. Evenings are filled with easy camaraderie, exquisite dinners, and quiet nights free from everyday distractions.

As sailing is subject to the wind and tide, we have no itinerary and plans can change hourly. Here, there are no unpleasant options - classic New England fishing villages, breath taking foliage, and perfect sunsets.

With over 2,200 islands in our cruising ground, each day is designed for maximum enjoyment.

Dining

“Our cuisine reflects the restrained decadence and pure aesthetic of Maine.

Produce is fresh, local, and carefully prepared, a foodie’s dream. Nevertheless, we delight in sharing our enthusiasm for fine ingredients and food cultures from around the world.”

Breakfast

Whether you’re an early bird or prefer to sleep a little longer, breakfast is prepared for you when you rise. You will wake to locally roasted coffee, fresh juice, homemade pastries, shipboard-made granola, yogurt, fresh fruit – a rolling breakfast like at your favorite B&B. A made-to-order feature will surprise you each morning such as omelets, crepes, or pancakes.

Lunch

Lunch features delicious stews and soups, warm breads from the oven, spectacular salads, and savory sandwiches.

As we will most likely be eating while under way, lunch is accompanied by a generous helping of spectacular coastal scenery.

Hors D'oeuvres & Dinner

Starting at cocktail hour, either in the gracious galley or topside under awnings, the evening meal will begin with wine, fine cheese selections, and a variety of amuse-bouches.

Each course features chef-presented plates accompanied by selected wines. With luscious desserts and stunning panoramic views to entice, it’s easy to linger long past sunset.

“The food was beyond spectacular. I can’t even begin to describe the feasts we had at every meal. Chef Anna is reason enough to take this trip.”

— TripAdvisor reviewer

“And the food – divine is too modest. Anna is inspiring as a chef and makes a point of using local produce in very creative dishes. She carefully pairs the menu with the wines Jane has selected. All this, and sailing, too!”
